Contemporary Aeolian Gospel Acclamations

*A collection of remarkable alleluias for Sunday Mass seemingly difficult but “Acclamations are shouts of joy which arise from the whole assembly as forceful and meaningful assents to God's Word and action. They are important because they make some of the most significant moments of the Mass (gospel, eucharistic prayer, Lord’s Prayer) stand out. It is of their nature that they be rhythmically strong, melodically appealing and affirmative. The people should know the acclamations by heart in order to sing them spontaneously. (The Alleluia is an) acclamation of paschal joy (being) both a reflection upon the Word of God proclaimed in the liturgy and a preparation for the gospel.”

Music in Catholic Worship, 1983

Composer's note: I generally avoid minor key settings of the "Alleluia". However, these have proven to be strong and forceful assembly acclamations during the church year outside of Christmas and Easter, particularly in the Fall (as daylight becomes shorter) and during Advent.
